GRANITE CITY — After a two-year absence, Shirley Stoll will return as president of the American Federation of Teachers, Local 743.

Stoll, a teacher at Coolidge Junior High School, defeated Emanuel Boyer, a teacher at Ford Elementary School, in a union election last week. She begins her two-year term this fall.

Stoll was union president from 1975-1985. During that time the union was involved in strikes and job actions.

She decided to run again because she's still interested in the union and union members asked her to run, she said.

"I think we have an excellent school district," Stoll said. "I look forward to working with everyone to make it better."

Stoll said 25 people voted in Tuesday's election.

"We did have a big voter turn out," she said.

Also elected were Barbara Houston, first vice president; Gary Morgan, second vice president; Joanne Hoffman, secretary; Judith Collins, corresponding secretary; and Mary Hemphill, treasurer.

Russ Chappell, current president of the local, said he decided not to run for re-election.

"I prefer to do other things with my time," he said.

Chappell has been president for two years.

BAC deficit projected at near million dollars

By Bill Bagby

Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — A deficit budget for fiscal 1988 is projected for Belleville Area College.

The $16.6 million tentative budget was presented May 13, said Chancellor Bruce Wissors.

It was prepared by a 10-member committee of top administrators and faculty, he said. Revenues are projected at $15,327,500 and expenditures at $16,687,454; a deficit of $1,359,954.

Wissors said Revenues for fiscal 1987 were $16,696,732 and expenditures were $16,506,476; a deficit of $99,256.

The spending increase is 1 percent more than this year, Wissors said. It is the lowest increase in spending in the history of the college, he said. It's also the first time in the college's history that less revenue is projected over the previous year.

Revenue, Wissors said, is projected to fall approximately 2 percent due to an expected decline in enrollment and state funding, he said.

The difference in revenue and expenditures will be taken from the college's fund balance. BAC Trustee Curt Eckert, Belleville, said he was "shocked" by the projection.

"You know, we had a pretty good deficit this year," Eckert said.

Leo Konzen, trustee from

Leo Konzen

Granite City, reserved comment until he could see the budget.

The college will have to "increase revenue or cut quality," Wissors said. One way to increase revenue would be to increase taxes, Eckert said.

"I think that's got to come eventually," he said, "but we've got to get the people in favor of that."

Orthodox minister named Pontoon's police chaplain

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — An offer the Village Board couldn't refuse was made May 12 by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Succarotte, who volunteered to become the police department's official chaplain.

The Orthodox minister is the village's first police chaplain.

"It doesn't cost anything, only an ID, and there is no salary. I will be on call 24 hours a day," Succarotte informed the board. He also serves as chaplain to the Madison Police Department.

Trustee Bob Abel, Police Committee chairman, introduced the minister and proposed his appointment as chaplain. There was no dissent.

"I'd like to have the Rev. Thomas Succarotte appointed as our official police chaplain so our guys will have someone to talk to," Abel said to the trustees.

The minister was invited to address the board.

"Today, more than ever, law enforcement agencies need religious guidance, counseling and assistance to police officers, their families and their communities," he said.

He plans to attend a special training program for police chaplains, he said. The program will be offered through the Metro St. Louis Area Police Chaplains Association, starting in September.

Primarily, the program provides counseling for the fellows by someone understanding of their situation. By having a police chaplain, it says you care about them (the officers)," Succarotte said.

"I am not a policeman and I don't intend to carry a gun."

"I think also that this should be a political appointment. It should be consistent and I hope there would be no changes if another administration should come in."

"I am there to help your police chief and the men," he said. Chief Chet Ballew sat with the new chaplain during the meeting.

At times, a police officer needs to discuss his problems or frustrations with someone who understands what he is up against, and yet is detached enough not to become emotionally involved, the minister said.

"Of course, there is always the case of someone who has lost his life in the line of duty or is seriously hurt."

"As chaplain, I am not there to replace their own minister or rabbi, but to give what immediate help I can to the officer and his family," he explained.

A police chaplain should be available to officers and their families in times of personal stress or crisis, but does not intervene unless requested to do so, the minister said.

Succarotte has been pastor at the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church, 416 Ewing Ave., Madison, since 1979.

He came here after serving as chaplain of St. Herman's Chapel at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., where he served cadets and staff members of the Orthodox faith.

The minister grew up in Wilmington, Del., and attended Pennsylvania Military College and St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary in New York.

He is married and resides in Madison with his family.

Costello denies discussions with Price for endorsement

By Dave Gosnell

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello denied that he approached Rep. Mel Price, D-Belleville, for a Congressional endorsement.

But Costello is on the verge of announcing his intentions to run for Price's seat.

On Thursday, the Press-Record/Journal reported an informed source said Costello recently approached Price's aides about the possibility of an endorsement from Price.

The source said Costello discussed the seat with Price's Washington aides.

"It's simply not true," Costello said Friday.

Costello said he wants to schedule a political meeting with Price soon to talk about the seat, but he said neither he or his aides have yet talked to Price or anyone in Price's Washington office.

Madison County Auditor Pete Fields and County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus said they are considering a run for the 21st Congressional District seat and have informed Price, who is retiring after his term ends in 1989, of their intentions. Both said Price's endorsement would be an advantage.

Jerry Costello

A top Price aide, Mike Mansfield, is soon expected to announce his plans to run for the seat, as first reported Thursday by the Press-Record/Journal.

Costello said he too is interested in entering the race.

"I'm very interested in running for Congress," Costello said.

A source close to Costello said Costello soon will announce he definitely is going to run for Price's seat and that Costello recently met in Washington with Democratic congressmen and senators to form a campaign committee.

In a related development, Sen. Paul Simon, D-Illinois, met several weeks ago with area Democratic leaders at the Collinsville Hilton Hotel where he spoke glowingly of Costello but did not mention other potential candidates.

"I think he (Simon) said Costello would make a good congressman," said Mac Warfield, Madison County Democratic Party chairman, who attended the meeting.

But Warfield said he did not interpret Simon's remarks as an endorsement of Costello.

"He (Simon) called another candidate and said he didn't make an endorsement of anybody," Warfield said.

A Simon spokesman in Washington, David Carl, said Simon had not endorsed any candidate but that the senator had a high regard for Costello.

"Any endorsement would come later. He does think highly of Jerry Costello and has discussed the possibility in the past with him (Costello). They have worked closely together on St. Clair County issues over the years. Both work well together," Carl said.

Carl said Simon's general policy is not to make endorsements of Democrats before primaries, but he does make exceptions.

'BAC bill' will be voted on Tuesday

SPRINGFIELD — A bill that could change the election of Belleville Area College trustees will be voted on in the House on Tuesday afternoon, said Rep. Sam Wolf, D-Granite City.

The bill, introduced by Wolf, would allow voters to elect trustees by subdistricts instead of on an at-large basis. BAC trustees are now elected at-large.

Opposition to the bill has been voiced by members of the Community College Trustees Association, Wolf said.

"They want to leave the thing status quo," he said.

However, the bill is still supported by many state legislators, Wolf said.

"It's still got the support," he said. "I hope to have it pass the House."

Garbage collection will change June 1

By Dave Gosnell

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Beginning June 1, city trash pick-up schedules will change from one day a week to five.

The city's trash service, Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc., will pick up garbage each day in different sections of the city.

Garbage will be collected in each section one day a week.

Laidlaw is expected to mail all residents the pick-up routes and a schedule of when garbage will be collected on their streets, said Bud Yates, of the city sanitation department.

Until the change, Laidlaw will continue collecting garbage in all parts of the city on Wednesdays.

The Granite City Council approved the change at its April 28 meeting.

In a letter to the council, Laidlaw said routing garbage collection would provide better service.

Four trucks will pick up garbage each day.

A proposal presented at the meeting by 5th Ward Alderman Jake Varadani to require that trash be placed on streetfronts instead of in alleys was withdrawn.

Yates said the city will still collect items Laidlaw is not under contract to pick up, such as discarded furniture.

Residents with questions about the new trash schedule can call Laidlaw at 877-9801.

Comment

Duke is back, sort of

The Franklin Mint has announced respectfully the issue of a commemorative of one of our great American heroes.

"John Wayne, American" will be the theme of this commemorative — a non-firing replica of the .45-caliber automatic handgun the Duke used to snuff many of America's enemies on screen.

The Wayne family authorizes a classic, the ad read, "to honor the man and the country he loved."

The gun, which costs $395, will be mounted for display on a richly grained hardwood wall rack, fitted with solid brass pistol mounts and accented with enameled insignia of all five American military services.

I know a guy who would love one of these little jewels, but I don't know where he is.

We worked in the same office briefly about 10 years ago. One day he brought in a richly grained wooden case and reverently opened it. Resting peacefully on its caressing, velvet lining was a gigantic handgun, acting to be wowed.

The owner interrupted my thought process as I stared longingly at the piece.

"Wouldn't you like to take this baby," he asked, waving it in my envious face and blow somebody's head off?"

I was humbled and ashamed at how words failed me in the presence of a master.

He insisted that a fellow employee and I both brandish that rod and take aim with it. How the electricity shot through me when I brought it to bore on an unsuspecting typewriter. This was before the newsroom had computers.

I handed it back to him quickly even though it contained no ammo. I didn't trust myself.

"In more than 150 firms," the ad goes on, "he captured our essence. Our strength. Our values. Our deep sense of purpose. And now, to mark the 60th anniversary of his first film role, John Wayne's family has authorized a dramatic new tribute.

It's distinctive, satisfying and absolutely safe.

Isn't that just like those candy cheeks who regulate folks like my old buddy? They're just trying to have a little fun and relieve those glory days of the Duke. They sell out good hard-core money and what do they get? A beautiful, richly grained hardwood display and a toy gun.

What would the Duke say about that? Even though he's in his grave, he probably spinning, just like he did in the "Sands of Iwo Jima," when one of those shifty little rascals tried to sneak up behind him. Pow!

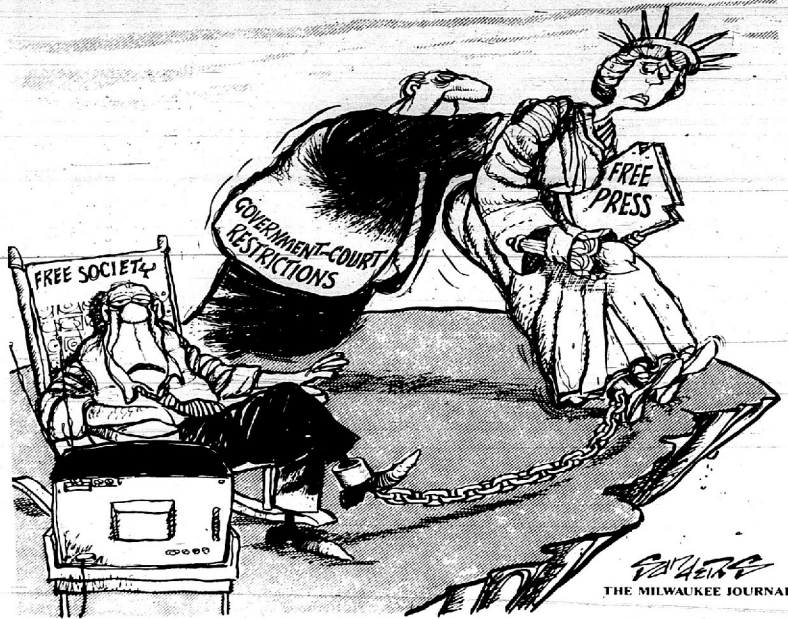

"Well, little fella. Ya won't be trying that one again."

This ad appeared in a national magazine. I sure hope it gets translated into a lot of languages and sent all around the world. That's just the kind of publicity we need to let the commies and their pervers know we still won't stand still for their money business.

True Americans should thank the Franklin Mint for this offering. There's only one thing the mint could offer to top it.

An adapter kit.

"Say your prayers, pilgrim. The tradition, with the help of my John Wayne Commemorative Conversion Kit, lives on. Even if you don't."

"Don't involve me in your petty bickering!"

Requiem for a candidate

By Gene Saffern

As the resident authority on broken campaign promises, I feel impelled to add my two cents to the torrent of printer's ink that already has been spilled and continues gushing in the lost cause of Gary Hart.

The first point to be made is that I wrote a column on a Thursday citing reasons why I thought he should withdraw. That was after he assured newspaper editors he would never drop out.

Moments after I completed that column, Hart's closest campaign associates hinted strongly that the following day he would eliminate himself from contention. To say that he had greatly disappointed me would be the understatement of the week. (It's so rare that I get ahead of myself in writing these pieces.)

Well, the deed was done and the nagging question remained: Did the Miami Herald go about this in the right way? Was it invading Hart's privacy, or was it satisfying the people's right to know as much about a candidate for the presidency as possible?

The Herald was criticized for rushing the story into print when it might have waited to check more thoroughly.

An anonymous phone call earlier that week tipped the paper off to the fact that a friend of the Herald's didn't want to see another "liar in the White House," and seemed to have accurate information about Hart's phone calls to the woman, boat rides, times, dates, places — so that the tip appeared to be reliable. Finally, at the last moment, a reporter was dispatched to the airport to fly to Washington to try to check out the rendezvous.

At the Miami ticket counter, he noticed a stunning blonde with a large handbag. Later, when the blonde left the Hart residence, he was surprised to see the same woman with same handbag enter the candidate's Capitol Hill townhouse.

A man from the Herald's Washington bureau joined the Miami reporter and the two spent the night, including the time between 3 and 5 a.m. Also, there was a period when the back door was not observed. In the morning, they were joined by others from Miami. He identified as Donna Rice entered the house early Friday evening and emerged on Saturday. The reporters confronted Hart in person with their suspicions. He was anything but forthcoming.

Later, the young woman said she left the house early in the evening, came back for a book, and left again. Hart said this did not constitute anything improper. His wife, Lee, said, "If Gary said nothing happened, nothing happened."

Even if one accepts this, it still represents a lack of judgment, or colossal arrogance. Hart's commanding lead in the polls began to evaporate overnight. He had been leading the pack in both parties; if the election had been held before this bizarre episode, he would have been elected president.

Rightly or wrongly, the conduct of the president and his family is important to the American people.

This brings us back to square one: Should this have been made known by the Herald, or should a candidate for the presidency be allowed to follow the dictates of his libido, no matter what?

I'm of the opinion that the Herald acted properly and responsibly.

It has been forthright about it, instead of complaining that it was the fault of flawed journalism, he might have weathered the storm. When Grover Cleveland was accused of fathering a child illegitimately, he responded, "It might have been me." It was the only comment he made on the subject, and he won the election.

The point here is that Hart is perceived as a philanderer with some proof to that effect, no matter how flimsy. The public simply wouldn't buy his disclaimer.

In his final statement, he said he thought he would have made a good president, and I'm inclined to share that view, but we will never know.

However, neither we nor he should despair. A number of good men stand in the wings: Richard Gephardt, Paul Simon, Bill Bradley, Sam Nunn, Dale Bumpers, Mario Cuomo — the list is lengthy and goes on and on. The country will survive.

running the name.

Outside papers, such as the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Edwardsville Intelligencer, and the Belleville News-Democrat printed the teacher's name. The Post published his picture. Nothing is wrong with that, from my perspective, but that fact should indicate to readers that this newspaper could have more aggressively handled the story.

The Belleville paper, with its next-day coverage, did something I consider questionable in that its article didn't state the charges against the man regarding "alleged" improprieties, which would at least have given the accused the deserved benefit of doubt, a point which may haunt the paper later if the man is cleared.

Considering the other coverage, this newspaper can't be said to have treated the man unfairly. In fact, I called him to let him know the article would be appearing and that if he ever wanted to give his side the newspaper would print it because we have a moral obligation to be fair. But to not have printed the name would have made us look ridiculous in the eyes of most of our readers, especially in view of the coverage by other papers.

We can always be second-guessed, but hopefully those who do so will at least consider that we have good reasons for doing things the way we do.

Opposes income tax hike

To the editor:

If you don't want your state income taxes to go up, you had better act now.

I'm talking about businesses and individuals. The proposal to impose a service sales tax is dead, in my opinion, but one to hike income taxes is very much alive.

You can show your opposition by displaying a bumper sticker saying "No more Illinois taxes" on your car and writing your legislators.

The time to act is now, before it is too late. Nelson Rockefeller proved he could not spend New York into prosperity. Illinois shouldn't try.

Frustrated by cable TV

To the editor:

After following the computer instructions for ordering a Cardinals game (event #810 on May 4, 1987, Cards vs. Giants) my boys and I sat back to enjoy the game. Much to our dismay, we weren't getting anything but sound and a scrambled picture.

I checked our tuner and PD3 to be sure we were properly connected. All other channels were coming in as usual, but no ball game.

Again following instructions, I tried to call the Cencom service numbers. I began my quest for help at 7:35 p.m. About 7:50, I requested the operator check the line for conversation (this costs 80 cents). She reported there was conversation on the line and I should continue trying.

I again followed instructions and kept trying till 8 p.m., when I was answered by a machine which told me that all service agents were busy and I should hold for the next available agent.

I listened to "music on hold" for 50 minutes. No one ever answered.

Maybe that means you must stay on hold for 24 hours. I gave up.

Finally, at 9:40, a real person answers my call for the service department. Before I have a chance to tell her my plight, she puts me on hold to answer another call, not once but twice. I finally figured it out: Tonight is not my night.

At last I get to tell my story. Everything is going to be all right, right? Wrong!

She informs me that she is only the answering service for Cencom and I will have to leave my name and number for a service agent to call me during business hours.

I then asked if they would call me to straighten this out. She said, "I don't know what they (Cencom) do with the messages after they get them."

I know I'm not ready for the computer age. Somehow I don't think Cencom is, either. If this is the best they can do, maybe they better have South-Western Cable Co. handle their customer service.

I will try again to order any of Cencom's "special events." I am disgruntled and disgusted.

Those charged with crimes must be named

People who phone to sound off about editorial coverage aren't great in number, but they can be vocal. Sometimes, the make me wonder if they've spent any time with the newspaper.

For two years, this column has been dedicated to explaining why the newspaper operates the way it does, particularly in the editorial department. But still we get phone calls asking about the very things that I'd hoped hours of writing and re-writing this column would explain.

Unlike most columns found in newspapers, "Media Mandarin" rarely discusses anything national, or anything of a general nature. This column delves into this newspaper's relationship to the community and though not a grandiose topic sure to win me a place in some big syndicate, it's a topic that's important from the perspective because I think the reader should be educated about the thinking that goes into the hometown newspaper.

Last week, I received two calls in quick order about the high school math teacher the state's attorney charged with official misconduct. One person asked why the newspaper printed the man's name, but hung up when I started to answer. Obviously, the person had an opinion and could accept no other.

I'm not sure the second caller actually was opposed to what was written. I believe she kept

Media Mandarin

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive Editor

an open mind because she let me explain the logic of printing the name without displaying a name. I was refreshing because I sensed intelligence on the other end of the line, but still I think the woman and others can find answers about what we do just by reading this column.

As I've stated in other columns, we have an obligation for several reasons to print the names of those charged with crimes. That doesn't mean we don't have compassion for the person, or that we don't like the person, or that we think the person is guilty or anything else other than the simple fact that we have an obligation to print the name. Like the reader, we have no way of knowing guilt or innocence until all the evidence is rendered and a decision is reached in court.

In other countries, a person charged with crimes is named in the family, public or even the arrested person knowing why he's been named. In this country, the law states the names of those charged are public record and that charges must be brought in speedy fashion. Printing the name of the person charged actually is a protection for the person, though sometimes a difficult one with which to live. Perhaps someday, if those who don't understand the value of such a law can gain control of the system, the law will change. But for now, when a person is arrested and charged, the person's name will appear in this and other newspapers.

A second point to consider is the importance of the news to the community. Those charged with crimes in our judicial system are innocent until proven guilty, but the public has a right to know about the charge and to determine a reaction. In the teacher's case, the limited reaction we've received is in his support. Supported or not, however, it is a decision the public should be allowed to make.

For example, a person should know that the man he's just invited to the house is charged with five counts of robbing the homes of neighbors. The person can cancel the invitation, or not, but the choice should be allowed.

The public's right to know and protecting the accused are two reasons the names of those charged with crimes are printed but there is a third reason, one that is almost unsavory, but which must be mentioned. Competition is the third reason for

Marriage, divorce may stop benefits

Most Social Security benefits to dependents or survivors of retired, disabled or deceased workers end if the person divorces or marries, said Oliver Holmes, Social Security manager in East St. Louis, whose office serves the Quad City Area.

Holmes said there are exceptions. Benefits will continue unchanged for widows and widowers, including surviving divorced spouses, who remarry at 60 or older and disabled surviving spouses who remarry at 50 or older.

Benefits to a child will end if the child marries. Checks to a spouse getting benefits on the record of a retired or disabled worker will end if the marriage ends in divorce unless the spouse is 62 or older and the marriage lasted 10 years or more.

Checks for a widowed mother or father getting benefits because she or he is caring for an entitled child will stop if the mother or father remarries. Another exception occurs if an otherwise eligible person getting benefits as a widow, widower, or adult disabled in childhood marries a person who also gets one of these benefits.

Benefits also continue if a person receiving benefits as a widowed mother or father or adult disabled in childhood marries a person getting benefits as a retired or disabled worker.

A retired or disabled worker's benefit is never affected if he or she marries or divorces.

People who get benefits as a dependent or survivor should immediately report marriage or divorce to Social Security records can be kept correct, Holmes said.

Animal owners asked to protect carriers

GRANITE CITY — With the arrival of warmer weather, Postmaster Larry Wood has asked dog owners to help protect letter carriers, utility workers and other citizens from the dangers of dog bites.

The postmaster said that, nationally, more than 5,000 letter carriers were bitten by dogs last year. Wood added that those statistics included injuries to 29 Granite City carriers.

"In recent years, the public has responded to our plea to keep their pets restrained, and we have seen a decline in bites nationally," Wood said. "Nevertheless, much is still to be done to eliminate the hazard to our employees and other citizens who might be bitten."

Wood said all dogs are territorial by nature, and even the most gentle pet will bite if it feels its domain is threatened by the presence of a carrier or other person. "With a little care a pet owner can protect our carriers, and his or her pet and pocketbook, too," he said.

He stressed that the Postal Service protects its carriers from bite hazards. Among remedies in situations when a pet owner fails to restrain a dog is interruption of home delivery to the residence or, in some cases, to entire neighborhoods.

The Postal Service will also seek to recover worker compensation damages and provide counseling to carriers who have been bitten and who wish to seek legal action against dog owners.

Wood said these policies underscore the Postal Service's commitment to protect its employees, and added that pet owners can easily meet their responsibilities to control their pets.

"We suggest that pets be kept away from the mailbox and areas the letter carrier uses for access to the property," he said. "If the pet cannot be kept behind a secure fence, the owner should restrain it with a secure leash or tether or at least keep the pet inside the house during the usual hours carriers are making their rounds."

Wood said, "We try to do our part by stressing awareness of dangers to our carriers, but we rely heavily on the support and cooperation of the community to help us end these painful and costly injuries."

Meet May 18 on teen pregnancy

The Madison County Urban League's Family Planning Clinic advisory board and parent group will meet Monday, May 18, at 8 p.m. at the Venice Senior Citizens Building, Brown and Klein streets, Venice, and is inviting all teenagers, parents, ministers and concerned individuals to attend.

The group is encouraging parents to attend the monthly meetings and help "break the cycle of teenage pregnancy, an epidemic in our community."

A related goal is to promote male responsibility.

A portable TV will be given away at this meeting and two films will be shown. Several skits also will be acted out by parents for the teenagers.

"The message we are trying to get across to teenagers is, 'It's okay to say no and postpone sexual involvement,'" said Cynthia Crawford, advisory board chairman.

Refreshments will be served.

HUMAN DISPLAY: Henry Burns, standing, and his wife, Louise, sitting, pose in a display window at the front of their furniture store.

Henry Burns Furniture celebrates anniversary

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY After 30 years' experience, Henry Burns knows the furniture business. Last month, Burns celebrated the ninth anniversary of his furniture store, located at 1301 19th St.

When Burns was 19, he was manager of a furniture store. While manager, he hired his future wife, Louise.

"We were going together and I gave her a job as a bookkeeper," Burns said.

She still works with Burns, along with her son, two daughters, two sons-in-law and two other employees, Burns said.

Before starting his own business, Burns was manager of Friedman's Early American Shop in Madison.

When he opened his business, Burns said, he started with a small display of furniture besides doing upholstery work and teaching upholstery for Belleville Area College. As business increased, Burns stopped doing upholstery.

Recently the second floor of his store and the front display windows were remodeled. Burns is also working on a budget furniture store to be located in the basement of the building, he said.

Burns sells all types of furniture including beds, sofas, tables and chairs.

"It's a good investment to buy good quality furniture because it holds its value," he said.

His business is successful because he offers "quality merchandise, competitive prices and repair service," Burns said. "We take care of our customers."

He remembers one customer who bought an entire household of furniture during the severe snowstorm in the winter of 1981-82.

"It has been the biggest sale I've ever made," Burns said.

This store is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and by appointment after 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Wednesday; and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Advertising seminar set

The Center for Management Studies at SIUE will offer a seminar in the St. Louis area on testing and evaluating the effectiveness of an advertising program.

The seminar will be held June 9 from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at the Henry VIII Inn and Lodge, 4690 N. Lindbergh Blvd., St. Louis.

Instructor for the seminar will be Ronald R. Gist, professor of marketing and management at the College of Business Administration at the University of Denver.

Topics will include: auditing procedures for an advertising program, positioning so a product or service appeals to a specific market segment, using sales lead generation and/or prospecting to evaluate an advertising program, developing a successful positioning program, and methods for enhancing ad results.

Participants will be introduced to various testing methods, including telephone surveys, dead-time pre-testing, blind storyboard testing by mail, dummy magazine pre-testing, "portfolio" pre-testing, and readership testing.

Additional information may be obtained from James F. Miller Jr., director of the SIUE Center for Management Studies, 692-2668.

Withdraws resolution

SPRINGFIELD — A personal plea from Gov. James Thompson on May 8 apparently caused Republican State Central Committee member Edward Ragsdale to back down from his opposition to the governor's proposed tax increases.

Ragsdale, of Alton, withdrew his controversial resolution to put party officials on record against Thompson's proposed tax hikes after Thompson, Lt. Gov. George Ryan and Secretary of State Jim Edgar (all the statewide GOP officeholders) showed up at a committee meeting and suggested the resolution was not a good idea.

"In the spirit of unity I withdrew my resolution," Ragsdale said after the Friday afternoon meeting in Springfield.

Ragsdale claimed if he had pursued the resolution and "it came to a head-to-head fight it would be very close."

"But when the governor comes in there and he has a great personality and ability to sway people, it would have been difficult."

The conservative 21st District representative on the state GOP committee said he believed the resolution had made a point, though, and questioned whether Thompson would have come before the committee to discuss his tax proposals if it hadn't been pending.

The governor's advance schedule for the week had called for him to be in Chicago that day.

It also was Thompson's 51st birthday. Ryan and Edgar had joined him for a birthday party at the governor's mansion earlier in the day, and all three came in the same car to the central committee meeting.

The governor commented only briefly when he emerged from the state party leaders' convocation, noting Ragsdale had decided to withdraw his resolution.

"He said he understood a lot more than he understood before and he just wanted to have a chance to talk about it," Thompson said of Ragsdale.

Chase from Brooklyn to Madison nets youth

VENICE — Cooperation between police departments resulted in the capture of a 16-year-old St. Louis youth following a high-speed chase from Brooklyn to Madison in a stolen car.

Two accidents, one involving a Venice squad car and the other a parked auto, occurred along the way.

Caught about 1 a.m. May 9 in the 1400 block of Washington Avenue, Madison, the youthful driver faces multiple charges.

It all started when Venice Patrolman Gary R. Wallace, patrolling north on South Fourth Street, reported seeing a southbound driver who refused to dim his headlights.

As Wallace turned his squad car around, the driver of a late-model auto accelerated, speeding into Brooklyn and through side streets before returning to Illinois 3 and heading north.

Wallace radioed Illinois State Police and his own department, with Venice and Madison setting up a roadblock at Broadway and South Fourth.

The driver skirted the roadblock and headed east on Broadway into Madison. Speeds were clocked at over 90 mph in this stretch, with Madison and Venice police units in pursuit.

In Madison, the fleeing motorist turned onto 13th Street and then onto Washington Avenue, crossing 14th and going north on 15th street, where the driver made a U-turn.

He drove past Sgt. Bruce Fletcher's squad car and allegedly drove directly toward Wallace's police unit, striking the squad car on its left front side.

After traveling back along 14th and south on Washington Avenue, the driver tried to make another U turn but struck a parked car at 1405 Washington Ave. owned by Andy Hartzel.

The youth who was driving and his three passengers, a 12-year-old girl and two boys, 13 and 14 years old, all from St. Louis, jumped from the wrecked auto and ran. All four were captured moments later by Madison and Venice officers.

The driver was charged with possession of a stolen vehicle. The auto, a 1987 Olds Cutlass belonging to a University City resident, was stolen May 7 from St. Louis.

The youthful driver was transferred from the Venice Police Department to the Madison County Detention Home in Edwardsville after he was charged also with aggravated fleeing to elude an officer, not having a valid driver license, speeding and failure to dim headlights.

St. Louis police reported having an active warrant for the same youth, alleging violation of probation.

The three passengers were released from police custody without being charged.

Law enforcement dinner Monday

By Valeria Evenden
Staff writer

A capacity crowd is expected for the Law Enforcement Recognition Dinner scheduled Monday at St. Gregory's Hall on West Pontoon Road.

Seating accommodation for 380 was available and reservations now are being accepted on a standby basis only, said Walter Milton, chairman of the Crime Prevention and Awareness Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

A hospitality hour with a cash bar will begin the festivities at 6 p.m. Monday. A steak dinner catered by Charlie's Restaurant will be served at 7.

The honored guests will be law enforcement officers from area police departments. The gala evening has been arranged by the Chamber's Crime Prevention and Awareness Committee, with the cooperation of Granite City Elks Lodge 1663, in conjunction with National Law Enforcement Recognition Week.

Robert Shuff, Illinois first assistant attorney general, will be the principal speaker.

Sheriff Mearl Justus of St. Clair County will serve as toastmaster.

Shuff, a former Jefferson County state's attorney, joined the staff of Attorney General Neil Hartigan on Feb. 1, 1983, less than a month after Hartigan became the 38th attorney general of Illinois.

The guest speaker graduated in 1977 from Southern Illinois University School of Law at Carbondale. He was in private practice in Mount Vernon and served as public defender for two counties and general counsel for the Jefferson County Housing Authority.

In his present post, Shuff is in charge of the day-to-day legal services within the attorney general's Springfield office and oversees the new regional office program started by Hartigan soon after taking office.

Divorces

EDWARDSVILLE — The marriage of a Quad-City Area couple has been dissolved by the 3rd Circuit Court.

A divorce was granted to Donald V. Extington of Glen Carbon and Pamela Sue (Gaines) Extington of Granite City. They were married May 29, 1981.

Venice police

Shots fired on bridge

After toll collectors on the McKinley Bridge reported hearing three shots fired from the bridge at 4:20 a.m. May 12, Venice and Madison officers responded and saw an auto stopped in the westbound outer lane of the bridge.

The driver started to drive away, but then stopped the car. A passenger in the vehicle, Ricardo J. Raiford, 33, of St. Charles, Mo., said he was celebrating his birthday and had asked the driver to stop so he could shoot a shotgun in honor of the occasion.

Raiford said the weapon was in the car trunk and permission was given to search the trunk. A 20 gauge shotgun in a leather case was recovered.

Raiford was charged with unlawful use of a weapon. In a court appearance the same day he was fined $85 and was released to pay the fine at a later date.

Pursuit ends in arrest

Responding to a warrant issued for his arrest, Garland Giles, 18, of 1030 College Ave., Venice, went to the Venice police station at 2:35 p.m. May 11 and was charged with reckless driving, illegal transportation of alcohol, fleeing and attempting to elude police, not having a valid driver license and two stop sign violations.

The charges were filed following a May 3 incident which started when Giles allegedly passed a stop sign at Bissell and Selb streets.

When the police car passed the fleeing auto and blocked the road, the driver and a passenger jumped out of the vehicle and ran toward Market Street. Bear allegedly was in the auto, which was impounded.

Serena A. Giles, 21, of 1030 College, owner of the car, went to police the day after, inquiring about the auto. She was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive and was released after posting $52 bail.

Garland Giles was released on $250 bail.

Lancers top Lady Warriors

TAMMY LEVAULT was the losing pitcher as the Warrior softball team fell 11-3 to the Belleville East Lancers Thursday. East (17-4, 7-2) got five in the first and never looked back, although Warrior coach Jim Davis said LeVault pitched quite well against a good-hitting team. Jennifer Cavaness had three hits for Granite City (11-8, 5-4). They finish conference play at home against Belleville West Tuesday and host Triad Wednesday.

Regionals set for Class A

Marissa will begin defense of its state baseball championship next Thursday as the Class A regionals get under way. The Meteors gained the No. 2 seed in the Sparta Regional behind New Athens and will host the Red Devils began their march to the state basketball championship this winter by winning the Freeburg Regional.

The winner of the Madison-Metro East game will play No. 1 seed Columbia Thursday at 4 p.m. In other first-round games Tuesday at 4 p.m., No. 5 seed East St. Louis Assumption is at No. 4 Dupe and No. 6 Waterloo Gibault is at No. 3 Valmeyer.

The semifinals are Saturday at Columbia, with games at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. The championship game is set for Tuesday, May 26, at 4 p.m.

The winner of the Columbia Regional will join winners from Carlyle, Okawville and Sparta in the Marissa Sectional May 30. June 1. Here is a look at the matchups in those other regionals:

CARLYLE: No. 9 Wesclin meets No. 8 Kinmundy-Alma, while No. 10 Paloma meets No. 7 Sandoval Tuesday. The winner of the first game faces No. 1 Carlyle Wednesday, while the other winner faces No. 2 Brees Central. Other quarterfinals games Wednesday match No. 3 Odin and No. 4 Greenville, and No. 7 Lebanon meets No. 3 Mater Del.

The semifinals are at Carlyle at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday, and the title game is Tuesday at 4 p.m.

OKAWVILLE: In first-round games Tuesday, No. 8 Tamaroa meets the top-seeded Rockets; No. 5 Woodlawn meets No. 4 Pinckneyville; No. 7 Elverado meets No. 6 Du Quoin; and No. 6 Nashville meets No. 3 Waltonville. The semifinals are Saturday and the title game is Tuesday.

SPARTA: No. 9 Chester meets No. 8 Trico in the first game

Selph, Knollman to state; GC boys take 5th in SWC

Terri Selph and Wendy Knollman are Charleston-bound. Both of the Warriors qualified for this weekend's girls state track finals at the Class AA Sectional Friday night in Belleville. Selph won the discus competition with a throw of 122 feet, 7 inches. Knollman qualified in the long jump with a leap of 18-0 1/2, placing her second behind Edwardsville's Estia Saverson (19-0 1/2). First and second-place finishers advanced to state. East St. Louis Lincoln easily won the meet with 95 points. East St.

Louis was second with 34. Further details on the sectional will be in Wednesday's Journal.

The Granite City boys track team had to settle for fifth in the Southwestern Conference meet Thursday in Belleville, but Vince Darnell brought home top honors in the high jump.

Darnell, a junior, had a leap of 6-4 to take first place in the high jump competition, edging Vince Mosby of East St. Louis, who had a jump of 6-3.

Warriors hang on to lead by hammering East, 11-6

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — The Warriors edged a step closer to a possible showdown with Collinsville for the Southwestern Conference title Thursday.

Granite City (20-8) continued its resurgence from a mid-season hitting slump as they bashed Belleville East 11-6 at Varsity Field. The Lancers (19-9) took the second game of a double-header 14-8, but the opener was the one that counted in the league standings.

The Warriors are now 6-2 in the SWC, a full game ahead of the Kahoks, who shut out Alton 10-0 Thursday. Belleville East is now 5-4 as is West, which defeated East St. Louis 4-3 Thursday. The Flyers fell to 4-5 in the conference and are out of the race.

"It looks like it could come down to the game with Collinsville," said Warrior coach Bob Stegeneier of next Thursday's game.

As in the earlier game against the Lancers, the Warriors came back from an early deficit. Scott LeVault, who hadn't pitched in nine days, allowed a three-run homer to fellow pitcher Tom White in the first inning, but Granite City quickly erased that.

Tim Hogan singled and eventually scored on LeVault's sacrifice fly in the first to make it 1-1. Then Tim Patterson started a big day with an RBI single in the second. The not-so-swift Patterson then stole second, went to third on Tim Hogan's hit and both of them scored when Jamie Hogan knocked a two-out double into the right-field corner to put the Warriors ahead 4-3.

The Lancers tied the game in the third when White got his fourth RBI, a sacrifice fly to score Brian Gibson, who had tripled. But after LeVault walked and John Moad got a bloop hit in the third, Todd Adamitis' bunt was thrown away by Gibson and Randy Chapman — running for LeVault — put Granite City ahead again. Shortstop Todd Blomberg kicked Rich Wilson's grounder to make it 6-4, then Tim Hogan's infield out scored Adamitis with the third run of the inning.

The Warriors put it on ice in the fourth. LeVault and Moad walked, then Wilson got a bad-hop double to make it 8-4. With the wind blowing out toward left field, Patterson jumped on a pitch from reliever Kurt Hill and slammed it over the fence for a three-run homer and an 11-4 lead. It gave Patterson four RBIs in the game and he added two more in the nightcap.

"He swung the bat aggressively all day," Stegeneier said. "I'm going to have to give him

another long look

Patterson started the year at third base, but moved to the bench when Todd Hinterser went to third and Jeff Grote took over at shortstop. Now, with Hinterser struggling defensively at third because of a bad wrist, Patterson could see some more time.

LeVault allowed a pair of runs in the fifth on a single, double and sacrifice fly. Then the game was delayed 16 minutes while lightning flashed in the sky. But the rains never came, and when the game resumed, Wilson made a spectacular diving catch of White's fly ball down the right-field line. It was similar to a play he made against Cahokia earlier in the year.

"That was one for This Week in Baseball," said Jamie Hogan.

The Warriors had only eight hits, but they are again taking advantage of their opportunities as they had earlier in the season.

The win gave them a 20-7 record, but the Lancers came back with a bang in the nightcap. They rocked Mark Regando for eight runs in three innings. The Warriors came back with five in the second, to tie the game, highlighted by Chapman's bases-loaded triple, and Granite City was as close as 10-8 after six innings. But East got four in the seventh to put the game on ice.

"We hit the ball pretty good, but we made five errors," Stege-meier said. "Of course, we were playing a lot of people in different positions."

In addition to the fact the game didn't count in the conference standings, several of the senior players were absent because of a dress rehearsal for the May Carousal. And Jamie Hogan left to attend a scholar-athlete banquet in St. Louis.

"Hogan hadn't worked for a while, and it showed," Stege-meier said of the sophomore lefty. "He was a little rusty. It's tough to work him like this, but on the other hand, he is getting some varsity experience."

In addition to Chapman's three-run triple, Hinterseder added two hits. Patterson had two hits and two RBIs and Chris Bartling had a hit.

But the Flyers were not to be denied otherwise, as they took first place in eight of 18 events to win the overall title with 35.5 points. Alton was a distant second with 75 points. Belleville West (54½) and Belleville East (41) also finished ahead of the Warriors, who totalled 19 points.

Collinsville was last as the Kohoks failed to score a point. Other Warriors who placed in the meet included Kevin Sutphin, who was second in the triple jump with a leap of 40-11; Brett Bjorkman, who took fifth in the shot put with a throw of 43-6½; Dave Basso, fifth in the long jump, 19-11; Jake Varadian, fifth in the 3200 relay, 10:52.2; John Humphrey, fifth in the triple jump, 39-9¼; and Terry Biggs, fifth in the 200 dash, 25.2.

Warrior relay teams that scored were the 3200 team, fifth, 8:43.8; the 400 team, fifth, 1:47.2; the 800 team, fifth, 1:42.1; and the 1600 team, fifth, 5:44.8.

The Flyers won all of the relay events and also claimed four individual championships (shot put, 800, 400 and 200). The Redbirds claimed championships in five events (shot put, 100, high hurdles, 300 low hurdles and triple jump). Belleville East won in the discus and pole vault while Belleville West won the 3200 and 1600 runs.

All of the SWC schools plus Belleville Althoff, Civic Memorial, Cahokia, East St. Louis Lincoln, Edwardsville, Jerseyville, Roxana and Wood River will be running in the Class AA Sectional Friday night at Belleville East. The top two finishers in each event plus those who equal or better qualifying times set by the IHSA will advance to the state finals in Charleston May 29-30.

In Class A action, the Madison Trojans will run in the Red Bud Sectional and will be joined by Breese Central, Mater Dei, Chester, Columbia, Dupu Du Quoin, Metro East Lutheran, Freeburg, Lebanon, Mounds (Meridian), Nashville, Pinckneyville, Red Bud, Sesser Valier, Sparta, West, Valmeyer, Waterloo and Woodlawn. That meet will be Saturday beginning at 9 a.m.

Baker's soccer camp scheduled for June 15-19

Warrior soccer coach Gene Baker will hold his annual Warrior Kickers Camp June 15-19 at the Wilson Park soccer field.

The camp is for boys and girls ages 7-18 and will be held from 9 a.m. to noon each day. A $60 registration fee should be sent to Gene Baker, 1761 Vista Ridge, St. Louis, Mo., 63138.

This is the 12th year the camp has been operated by Baker, a recent inductee into the Granite City Sports Hall of Fame. A few professional players, such as Baker's cousin Pat, the backup goalkeeper for the St. Louis Steamers, will be on hand to help with instruction. Others who could appear include former Warrior stars such as Dave Fernandez, Matt Sheridan and Bill Heney.

Baker is a former National High School Coach of the Year and has won six state titles with the Warriors, including five straight from 1976-80. He owns all the coaching marks in the Illinois High School Association record book.

Malone better than new horror

By Harry Hamm and Frank Hunter

There are certain times of the year when most film exhibitors are desperate for films to show. After watching Nightmare at Shadow Woods, this must certainly be one of those times.

You know a film is a stinker when you overhear the projectionist say he became nauseous after one viewing.

Nightmare is rated R. (Language, relentless violence and carnage.) Esquire, Crestwood Plaza, Northwest Square, Northland, St. Clair.

Louise Lasser of Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman fame, who plays the mother of the terrible twins, looks (and acts) horribly. She seems demented at times and I'm not certain she was acting.

Nightmare at Shadow Woods smacks of most inexpensive and inexperienced film making. There are two kinds of performers in this movie, the old and washed up and the young and unemployed.

This film drew only five people at its first showing the day it opened at a local theater. Two of those people walked out early. At the first evening performance, business went down. Only three people came. Perhaps the word had gotten out.

There is one saving grace when you show a film like Nightmare at Shadow Woods. It doesn't take the ushers long to clean up the auditorium after each performance.

If Evil Dead Part II turned your stomach, keep quite distant from Nightmare at Shadow Woods, a runner-up for an atrocity award and another indication of the suicidal streak that seems to be a mile wide among the producers of motion picture entertainment.

The plot is nauseating, squalid, unbalanced and hysterical, dealing with demented Todd, sent off to an asylum after committing a terrifying act. But now the prodigal has returned home to mummy and daddy and a twin brother whom everybody admires, but is about as wholesome as Charlie Manson.

These lethal siblings skulk about in the gloom, one of them toting a cleaver with a blade long enough to rooster. He invades various apartments mutilating shrieking victims.

Petrified mama Louise Lasser wears a hideous housecoat that threatens to expose her bust at the drop of a hatchet, her mated countenance screwed into a thousand lines awash in floods of tears whenever her boys drop by.

If they don't go straight to hell, the people who grind out this sort of grisly infantilism at least deserve to go broke. I wouldn't spend a penny to walk through this one.

MALONE—Off-beat suspense thriller with Burt Reynolds as a loner who vanishes into rural America in order to escape his past and finds himself facing an ominous present.

Reynolds' co-stars include Kenneth McMillan, Cynthia Gibb, Scott Wilson, Lauren Hutton and Cliff Robertson.

Rated R. (Language, violence.) Ritz, Alton, Cinema IV Center, Clarkson, Des Peres, Halls Ferry, Kenrick, Ronnie's, Northwest Square.

There is one thing you can say about Burt Reynolds' new film. It's a darn sight better than his last movie, Heat.

Reynolds is palatable as an ex-CIA hit man in this well-produced action film that stars as it does actors and actresses. Speaking of stars, Cliff Robertson is good as an underground right-wing patriot who trains killers in the name of flag and country. Lauren Hutton is good in a small role as another CIA agent who tries to help Reynolds escape his past. In fact, for a special-effects film, Malone is very well cast.

One thing that is becoming painfully obvious is the toupee Burt Reynolds is wearing. Each film it seems to get curlier. Each film his hairline seems to recede a little more.

It might have been nice to put a little guesswork into the script of Malone. As it stands, this film is about as challenging to figure out as yesterday's weather report. But Malone will satisfy Burt Reynolds fans, plus other moviegoers hungry for that breed of film that piles stunts on top of crashes on top of explosions on top of killing.

No, it's not a comedy. Malone finds Burt Reynolds bashing heads together and losing off a few one-liners while settling the hash of a psychotic super patriot.

One of Reynolds' gems is directed to a young girl turned, on by his 1969 Mustang. She notes the aging coupe "is older than I am," Burt drawls. "Honey, I've got socks that are older than you are." Vintage Burt Reynolds without a doubt.

Reynolds plays Malone, a basically decent, quiet-spoken ex-CIA man who fills with a despotic madman's goon squad. The madman, seething chauvinistic multimillionaire tycoon-survivalist Delaney, rides around in a Lincoln making fabulous offers for local property and setting up a private paramilitary empire.

Sellers must agree to take the money and run. Those who refuse to leave the area suffer mysterious tragedies.

When Delaney calls out his army of trained thugs to keep Malone from blowing his house away, look for a routine scenario relying on fistfights, pistol-whippings, car wrecks, stunt work, a runaway bale of hay from a handsome horse barn and the usual Hollywood special effects fueled by gasoline and TNT.
